This checklist is one way to help you become more aware of the items in your home that could be harmful to you, your family, and your pets. Complete this form and keep it as a way to keep track of items in your home and their potential dangers.

Treat this checklist like a scavenger hunt. Involve the family so they can better understand the dangers of disturbing these products.

1. Check off the items you find. If you find items not on the list, add them.
2. Write down how much you have in the house (including container size).
3. Write down where the product is located. This will also help you know if some items may be moved to keep children and pets from interaction with potentially harmful products.
4. Read the labels on the products, note any warnings.
5. If you have products that are old, no longer in use, or if you simply just have too much, you can call 405-739-1049 to set up an appointment to drop them off at the Household Hazardous Waste Drop off Center.
